

What actions or priorities should we — collectively — focus on in the coming decade to achieve our vision of global supply chain workers realising and defending their rights?

Please share your contribution in one or two short sentences (around 10–25 words). All posts are anonymous. By contributing, you agree we can publish your words as part of the final manifesto on our website. Please avoid sharing personal information and organisation names. This is a space for ideas, demands, and vision — and we'd love to hear yours. #10yrsmanifesto ↻ Facilitate meaningful stakeholder engagement in risk identification AND remediation, including on individual cases.

♡ 0

↻ Empower workers, especially women and migrants, to lead workplace monitoring and remedies.

♡ 0

↻ Support workers to organise, join unions, and claim their right to negotiate collectively for better terms and conditions at work.

♡ 2

↻ Strengthen democratically elected factory level unions to enable day to day worker-driven monitoring and grievance channels that workers trust!

♡ 2

↻ Continue supporting public buyers in requiring companies to be more transparent about their supply chains.

♡ 2

↻ Coordinating stronger international networks of public buyers and workers, enabling them to apply their leverage, and ensuring they are unified to defend workers' rights.

♡ 1

↻ Encourage and support public buyers to adopt and implement robust socially responsible procurement policies and systems that protect and promote workers' rights

♡ 1

↻ As Heidi said - a bigger focus on raw materials and mining!

♡ 1

↻ Tackling gender-related issues in the supply chain and support affected workers to speak out and obtain remedy.

♡ 1

↪ Make workers rights abuses public, inform the public. Empowerment of workers along the value chains

♡ 0

↪ Expand the Electronics Watch model to monitoring more factories across more sectors.

♡ 5

↪ Maintaining all the improvements made to date i.e. don't let factories (etc) revert to past practices.

♡ 2

↪ Continue to figure out how to use leverage of public procurement effectively to protect rights of workers

♡ 1

↪ Prioritize binding social criteria in all procurement, ensure transparency, and enable worker-driven monitoring throughout global supply chains.

♡ 2

↪ Continue to raise awareness of the challenges faced and the different aspects of workers rights (ie its not just about pay/hours)

♡ 1

↪ Ensuring access to justice for workers and prioritizing workers' empowerment and solidarity!

♡ 0

↪ Expand Electronics Watch to other sectors such as Textile

♡ 0

↪ Expand into food, furniture, textiles etc

♡ 1

↪ Increase the education for brand buyers, support brands to raise standards.

♡ 2

↪ Demand and expect more and better quality evidence from suppliers to show what they are doing to address and prevent exploitation and abuse of workers

♡ 1

↪ Support legislative developments to include mandatory transparency of supply chain mapping

♡ 3

⇌ Dont overlook corruption and works right in the west world countries

♡ 0

⇌ Importance that environment issues conected to human rights. By working with HR also adress environment issues.

♡ 1

⇌ Get an annual report that ranks from geographical areas companies that are doing badly (with evidences) and those who are doing greatly.

♡ 1

⇌ Expanding into supply chains of legal/illegal treatment, recycling of electric parts, especially in case of health-risk components

♡ 0

⇌ Develop a tool/clause to ensure that workers' complaints are forwarded directly to the contracting bodies.

♡ 0

⇌ Communicate the wins to general public

♡ 0

⇌ Increase the collection of data and remedy on gender related risks for workers

♡ 0

⇌ Strengthen transparent impact reporting that links public money, contract conditions and concrete worker outcomes, so taxpayers and workers can see the value of responsible public procurement

♡ 1

⇌ Attention to human rights and worker rights has to become a standard practice in public procurement. A high level legal obligation and extra encouragement could help.

♡ 0

⇌ Begin to address not only labour rights, but also the uses of devices in the violation of human rights (mass surveillance, for example).

♡ 0

⇌ Strengthen gender-responsive health, safety, grievance, and chemical protections that safeguard women's bodies and reproductive health as the majority of workers in the electronics sector are women.

♡ 0

↻ organise worker-buyer secure online meetings

♡ 0

↻ build a close network of partners to support each others work, even when there are economic crises etc.

♡ 0

↻ The younger generations are the main mass users of technology, so it is an interesting challenge to design educational strategies aimed at them, to make them aware of value chains.

♡ 0

↻ Bigger focus on raw materials, mining and smelters

♡ 0

↻ Strengthen transparent impact reporting that links public money, contract conditions and concrete worker outcomes, so taxpayers and workers can see the value of responsible public procurem

♡ 0

